

Entering North Andover

Many years ago this sleepy little town,
Was a home to the wild turkeys flying around.

Many people wonder where did Turkey Town go?
What happened to the horse paths and the crooked, dirt roads?

Now Turkey Town is referred to simply as North Andover and is the home to people both young and old.

There are no more horses seen roaming around.
Only cars are seen racing people to and fro.

Now North Andover has restaurants, sidewalks, and traffic lights.
Turkey Town has come one step closer to the city life.

When driving through North Andover, many people ask...
What happened to Turkey Town? Will it ever be back?

By: Elizabeth Kelly